President's Remarks

By Dr. David Linsenbardt

Dear Fellow LIR Members:

I am proud to have been chosen to lead our organization for the next year. Our organization is doing well and has done so because of the leadership of our immediate past president, PeeWee Forck.

As we begin a new year, the organization welcomes two new board members, Marigene Brewer and Donna White.

Some minor reorganization has occurred. Carol Ellinger has agreed to chair the curriculum committee and will become an ex-officio member of the board. Rosemarie Turner will continue as chairperson of the travel committee and Kathel Cooper will continue as chair of the membership committee. Marigene Brewer, who has been an ex-officio board member, will continue as chairperson of the clubs and becomes a elected member of the board.

The curriculum committee has put together an exciting series of classes for February and March and is well on its way with the September and October classes for 2013.

The travel committee continues its excellent job and has scheduled numerous day trips and extended trips for 2013. Remember, trips fill up quickly, so register for them as early as possible.

All of us owe our thanks to Pee Wee Forck who has done a wonderful job as president over the past two years.

Let's continue with the good work, grow our membership, participate in our organization, and have a wonderful time in 2013.

With everyone's help and enthusiasm, this will not only be a good year, it will be a GREAT year.

Past President's Farewell

Fellow LIR Members:

Happy New Year in 2013!!! It's hard to believe I sat here two years ago and wrote my first letter to you, my fellow members. Yes, we have survived; and even more than that, we have had a considerable amount of growth, not only in membership, but in activities. As I said in my letter two short years ago, this is your organization: "I may be your leader, but you need to tell me which way to go!" That you did, and you have made this a better organization to be a part of.

This will be my last newsletter since I will be replaced at the January meeting by Dr. David Linsenbardt. He is a fine person and will make a fine leader; but like me, he will need all of your help. So let us all get behind him and make this great organization even greater in the future.

Two board members terms are also ending with mine. Please join me in thanking Mary Grillos and Barbara Swanson for their service to LIR during their terms of office.

In closing, I want to "Thank!" all of you for the support over the last two years. It has been more enjoyable than I could ever have imagined. I have met so many wonderful and caring people and created so many new friendships. So thanks to you all, each and every one of you. I definitely will miss this job.

Hope you had a Blessed Christmas and will have a Prosperous New Year!

PeeWee

Moving on, we'll take you to the new Federal Court House where docents will guide us and tell us about this beautiful new building which overlooks the Missouri River. No cameras, cell phones, knives or guns are allowed; you will also pass through a magnetometer and x-ray prior to the tour.

Crystal Bridges and More

April 17, 18, 19, 2013

Our coach departs Wednesday morning at 7:00 a.m. traveling south to Bentonville, Arkansas. We will have a brief stop along the way. On arrival in Bentonville, lunch will be at Fred's Hickory Inn where Sam Walton and friends did their planning on paper napkins.

Following lunch we visit Crystal Bridges Art Museum; this collection was amassed by Alice Walton to bring American Art to the heartland. A special exhibit by Norman Rockwell is included on our tour. The beautiful grounds are part of the total experience!

After a full day we'll check in at Comfort Suites for a two night stay. This evening we are treated to a managers' reception in the lobby or, if you prefer, you may find a restaurant nearby.

Next morning we're off to visit the first home of Bill and Hillary Clinton in Fayetteville followed by a guided tour of the RFID Research Center. This center is one of the world's pre-eminent retail developing sites using amazing technology. We lunch at Mermaids in Fayetteville.

Following our lunch break, we visit Drake Field Air Museum where there are many displays of the history of Arkansas aviation from the 1920's through WWII and to the jet age. The wood hanger housing the museum was the former headquarters for an aviation training post during WWII.

A visit to Bentonville would not be complete without stopping at the Walton Visitors Center and the adjoining 5 and 10, Sam Walton's first store. A step-on guide will tour us past several Bentonville enterprises.

On our last day in Arkansas, we'll visit Pea Ridge National Military Park where a Ranger will help us understand how this battle saved Missouri for the Union. Before leaving, we'll lunch and reminisce at Simple Pleasures with Ken Minor.

Tour cost includes transportation, hotel, two continental breakfasts, two lunches, entrance fees and tips.

A Day in Pulaski and Phelps Counties

Fort Leonard Wood – St. James

May 16, 2013

We start our day traveling to the Pulaski County Tourism Bureau in St. Robert's for a rest stop and to enjoy complimentary snacks while we browse through the Visitors Center. From there we travel to nearby Fort Leonard Wood Military Base which was constructed in the late 1940's. The post has become renowned for state-of-the-art training and support of national defense, and has served as the launching point for millions of military careers. It is home to the Engineer, Chemical and Military Police Corps Training Schools as well as personnel from all branches of the U.S. Military. While there we meet our military tour guide for the day, attend a graduation ceremony, lunch in the main dining hall and tour the Mahaffey Museum Complex.

Leaving the base around 3:00 p.m., we travel to St. James to the first ever Vacuum Cleaner Museum located on Historic Route 66. Yes, vacuums...everybody has one but do we know much about them? That's what we'll find out! After being "sucked in" to the vacuum tour, we cross the street and make a visit to St. James Winery for wine tasting and appetizers. Following a quick stop at the famous Diana's Diner to pick up a box meal, we begin our journey home as we relax and enjoy our meal from the 50's Diner.

Important: Photo I.D. required for entrance to Fort Leonard Wood—a drivers license will do.

Departure time: 8:00 a.m. Return: 7:30 p.m. (est.)

Cost: $25.00 due with registration

- * Next, enjoy a delicious Greek buffet lunch prepared by parishioners at the Assumption Greek Orthodox Church followed by a tour of Assumption's gorgeous sanctuary.

Thomas Hart Benton Tour

July 18, 2013

Tour the Thomas Hart Benton Home as if he and his wife Rita may step into a room at any minute. The furniture, appliances, books, clothes and many other items remain as the Benton's left them. Behind the home, the carriage house became Benton's Studio; easels, paints, pictures, and other items of his trade lay virtually untouched since last used by the artist.

Rita Benton purchased the home in 1939 and it remained their Missouri residence during the next four decades. After Rita died ten weeks after her husband in 1975, the residence became the property of the state of Missouri. Both of the middle aged Benton children had established their lives away from the Kansas City area and had no desire to retain the site.

After touring the home and studio we will travel a short distance to Winstead's on the Plaza for lunch, on your own. This is basically a 1950's hamburger/ice cream shop. The décor remains from that period and the food is inexpensive. Hamburgers, fries and onion rings are prepared as they were before the franchising of our meals; your food will not come from under a heating lamp. Usually, one never "has room" to try their famous ice cream deserts.

We then travel a few blocks to the Nelson-Atkins Museum of Art, one of the best art museums in the U.S. with a number of important works. The gallery has the most extensive collection of Benton's works, including some of the most important (and controversial; what's a Benton work if not controversial?), canvases. Traveling with us as our tour guide will be Dan Herman.

Departure Time: 7:30 a.m. Return: 7:30 p.m. (est.)

Cost: $42.00 due with registration

Rosemarie Turner 635-3175
